Sorry for the delay been busy with websites and server updates this past week but I'm pretty sure you guys did allow me to buy advertising with PayPal before because here is my support ticket for <https://ads.uap.company/support/view/3EC3-C920-F112-AB97> where I asked and your company gave me your PayPal email then I sent it money from my business Paypal account. That transaction is documented as I reported it as business expense for my company taxes in my country for that year of that transaction. Also my account deposit history the PayPal see my screenshot here: https://www.rutakus.net//cdn/temp_images/UAP/paypal_deposit2019_uap-screenshot.jpg and well you can check your systems as well since you didn't even bother before. Either way I don't care anymore as I'm probably not going to advertise here anymore here with how you handle this ticket. As if you didn't even bother check my user account info in your system. What make me more irritated is if i needed that purchase info for my business for example my company audited by the IRS as this transaction was for business purposes and you were to answer like you did here. You could have mess things up for my business >.< But good thing I have documented this transaction from the reports sec As someone who has been in clicking industry since 2005 , running PTC/GPT websites since 2010. A traffic exchange owner since 2018 and certified LFMTE script reseller not longer after that. So I have seen it all.

Either way I not happy. FYI I'm pretty sure I was not referring to another damn advertising platform as other platforms that allow Paypal, accept it automatically through their websites including my own advertising network Perfect Money is a scam, Payeer don't allow USA customers or businesses (mostlikely a scam as it look like a Payza clone, from what I researched as well Payeer could be a scam, recent article say they are running on expi). I trust Bitcoin and litecoin but I'm not too keen on let my personal crypto go and my business current doesn't have a crypto balance. Also you site has a lot of complaints on eMoneySpace and trustpilot of members being suspended for no reason some even invested or requested payout then were suspended. How I can't trust a company that only offers payment processors that are scams. Or just crypto. Like I said crypto is fine but I will it's the crypto I trust not all business using it. Crypto is none reversable so transaction can't be reversed. Your domain information is hidden No way to tell who owns what. Just saying.

Hi, dear MrRuste,

We don't accept PayPal and never did.

You may be referring to another advertising platform.

The payment processors/ methods we accept are Bitcoin, Litecoin, Payeer, Perfect Money and ECA-N

Just wondering if you would like me add advertising balance with Paypal again? Thanks for your answer.
